Dhiravamsa is an internationally acclaimed Vipassana meditation teacher from Thailand, currently teaching in Spain. He ordained as a monk at age 13 before taking off his robes in 1971 to be more accessible to Western students. Since 1965 Dhiravamsa has led retreats around the world, focused on his psycho-spiritual approach known as Holistic Vipassana, incorporating Western Psychology traditions with meditation. At age 84, this is likely Dhiravamsa's final retreat in the United States.
